Omega-3 Facts

Omega-3 fatty acids

Supplementing Omega-3 fatty acids to your pets may provide a number of benefits including improving skin and coat conditions and working to combat inflammation in various parts of the body.

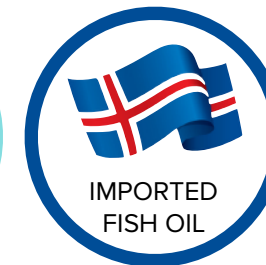

In addition to being a healthy source of energy for fuelling growth, there is evidence that Omega-3 fatty acids are required for normal brain development in small animals as it grows. In older animals, Omega-3 may help slow down the deterioration and decline of neural and cognitive functions.

Common sources

The most abundant source of DHA and EPA is marine fish oil.

O3GOLD FORMULA

The O3Gold formula contains 500mg of the highest quality fish oil in each soft gelatine capsule.

Feeding Guide FOR CATS

Page 3

Weight of cat	Amount of O3Gold
1-5 kg	1 O3Gold capsule/day
6-10 kg	1-2 O3Gold capsules/day
>10 kg	2 O3Gold capsules/day

Amount of O3Gold capsules given per day varies depending on your cat's diet. If your cat(s) receive substantial amounts of fresh fish per day, you may reduce O3Gold intake accordingly.

Other supplementary vitamins and minerals

Lysine is an important amino acid used for proteins synthesis, so it is vital during growth. Lysine deficiency or insufficient supply in a kitten's diet will result in slow or poor growth and low levels of appetite.

Vitamin D support the formation of healthy bones. Vitamin D deficiency can cause painful limbs and rickets.

Vitamin A is required for healthy vision. It is also involved in protein synthesis and is, therefore, important for animals during growth.

PET VITA highly recommends O3Vit for Cats for growing kittens, as it contains Omega-3 fatty acids, and also Lysine, Vitamins A & D, and other multivitamins and minerals for puppy development.

TOP TIPS!

- O3Gold can be used as a nutritious TREAT for your dog/cat to supplement their main meals.
- For fussy DOGS or CATS, we recommend the following:
 - OPTION 1) Pop the O3Gold capsule with a clean, sharp needle and spread it all over your pet's food. Mix thoroughly.
 - OPTION 2) Envelope the O3Gold capsule with your pet's favourite treats and feed as a snack.

- For BIRDS/CHICKENS/HENS, we recommend feeding directly into its beak and slowly massaging the capsule down their neck.
